

COOKIE POLICY

Last Revised: Aug, 11, 2021

Welcome to Just Jolly!

WHAT COOKIES ARE?

Cookies are small text files that are sent to the user's device (usually to the web browser) by visited websites; they are stored in the user's device to be then re-transmitted to the websites on the user's subsequent visits to those websites. When navigating a website, a user may happen to receive cookies from other websites or web servers, which are the so-called "third party" cookies. This happens because the visited website may contain items such as images, maps, sound files, links to individual web pages on different domains that are located on servers other than the one where the page being visited is stored.

Cookies do not damage your device and may allow us to provide you with a faster and better navigation (their purposes may range from IT authentication to the storage of information on user configurations in accessing a given server, etc.) on our Site. Further uses of cookies, like those who are targeted to offer you commercial proposals, are stored on your device only after your explicit consent expressed by unambiguous behavior or through the tools described hereinafter. Cookies are present as a rule in substantial numbers in each user's browser and at times they remain stored for long.

Cookies may be distinguished into two major groups: "technical" cookies and "profiling" cookies.

a. Technical Cookies, which are those used exclusively for better running the site from a technical point of view, carrying out the transmission of a communication on an electronic communications network, or insofar as this is strictly necessary to provide a service that has been explicitly requested by the user. Technical cookies can be grouped into browsing or session cookies, which allow users to navigate and use a website (e.g. to purchase items online or authenticate themselves to access certain sections); analytics cookies, which can be equated to technical cookies insofar as they are used directly by the Site manager to collect aggregate information on the number of visitors and the pattern of visits to the website; functional cookies, which allow users to navigate as a function of certain predetermined criteria such as language or products to be purchased so as to improve the quality of service.

Users' prior consent is not necessary to install these cookies but the user must be made aware of their presence and may object to their installation.

b. Profiling and marketing cookies

Marketing cookies are aimed to send commercial proposals following certain navigations on a website while profiling cookies are used to create user profiles to send ads messages in line with the preferences shown by the user during navigation. As this may mean collecting personal data, and for a certain time after the access to the Site, users must be informed appropriately on their use so as to give their valid consent.

This information might be shared with third parties, i.e. the entities involved in the installation of cookies on the user's terminal, which are linked to Ferrero by contractual means in order to protect your rights; this may happen for example for social network plug-ins. In such cases our site will connect to the social network in order to show tailored advertising messages on different sites which are not under Ferrero's control. For further information regarding these third parties please read their information notices and consent forms.

Browsers' settings for cookies

You may signify your choices on the use of cookies by way of your device's browser settings at any time. Nonetheless, some functionalities of our Site will not be accessible that are included into a Premium Plan, if you disable certain cookies (some cookies are necessary for the basic operations of our site). Your choices can be verified and modified in the browser's preferences to select the preferred use of cookies by the website. Please select herein below the browser you are using to be led to the settings' page and to the procedure to be followed to configure those settings.
